SERVICES, FEES, AND COMPENSATION (Item 4)

Description of the FTJ Wrap Fee Program

The FTJ Wrap Fee Program applies to investment advisory services offered by First Affirmative, through its IARs (as defined in the Disclosure Brochure), consistent with its Sustainable Investment Solutions advisory offering (as described in the Disclosure Brochure) using proprietary investment model portfolios constructed and managed by First Affirmative (Proprietary Models) as well as models selected by First Affirmative that are constructed and managed by third party unaffiliated investment advisors (Third Party Models).

Wrap Fee for the FTJ Wrap Fee Program

The FTJ Wrap Fee Program fee (Wrap Fee) includes all costs for investment management, trade execution, and custody and clearing (which is provided by TD Ameritrade, Inc. (TD Ameritrade)), unless specifically noted as a separate charge below. Fees on assets included in the Wrap Fee Program are charged as a percentage of assets under management, annualized, in arrears, on a monthly basis according to the schedule below. The Wrap Fee shown in the table below is collected from each client account by FTJ on First Affirmative's behalf.

On the first	$50,000	1.450%

Third Party Model Managers (also referred to as portfolio managers) utilized by First Affirmative when advising clients on the FTJ platform are paid 0 to 10 basis points (bps) (0.10%) out of the Wrap Fee. First Affirmative also receives 10 bps when its Proprietary Models are used by third party RIAs in the course of providing fiduciary advice to their clients. Some of the models that are available to IARs for purposes of providing discretionary investment advice to clients on the FTJ Platform are Proprietary Models. When a Proprietary Model is used by an IAR, a client is not charged a separate basis point fee – the Wrap Fee includes the cost of all Proprietary Models.

There is no minimum size for accounts that are advised by First Affirmative on the FTJ platform and the Wrap fee is negotiable by clients. Negotiated fees are provided to individual clients on a separate schedule.

The Wrap Fee may be more or less than the aggregate fee for services if they were offered separately. Some factors that may contribute to the relative cost differential include, but are not limited to, the brokerage and clearing costs, commissions based on trading frequency or commissions based on type of security (e.g., mutual fund versus single stock) and the variety of mutual fund share classes that may be used in managed mutual fund models.

Ancillary Fees Charged by TD Ameritrade

In addition to the Wrap Fee, clients also are responsible for the following ancillary fees charged by TD Ameritrade:

Qualified accounts

- Check – $5.00
- Overnight check delivery – $30.00 (in addition to $5.00 check fee)
- Stop payment on check – $25.00
- Voided check – $25.00
- Stale dated check – $25.00
- Wire transfer – $20.00
- ACH – No charge
- Rejected ACH – $25.00
- Loan fee – $100.00
- Full liquidation non-ACAT – $75.00/account
- Termination fee for 401(k) plans (excluding solo 401(k) plans) set-up on the platform on or after May 1, 2013

Non-qualified (taxable and IRA) accounts at TD Ameritrade

- Rejected ACH transfer – $25.00
- ACAT transfer out – $50.00/account
- Stop payment on check – $25.00
- ACH – No charge
- Full liquidation non-ACAT – $75.00/account

All accounts:

- $25.00 annually for electronic delivery of quarterly reports
- $75.00 annually for paper delivery of quarter reports

Fees are subject to change upon notice to clients by mail, electronically or by posting a notice of such change on the FTJ FundChoice website.

Mutual Fund Expenses

Mutual funds have internal expenses, such as portfolio management, legal and accounting, printing, marketing, trading costs and other administrative expenses, including fees paid to custodians. Fund expenses are more fully disclosed in each mutual fund prospectus. They are accounted for and charged internally by the mutual funds and monies collected or retained are not shared with First Affirmative.

Compensation to IARs relating to Client Participation in the FTJ Wrap Fee Program

IARs are compensated from the Wrap Fee. The amount of this compensation may be more or less than the compensation an IAR would receive if not recommending the FTJ Wrap Fee Program. This may create a conflict of interest in that the IAR may have a financial incentive to recommend the FTJ Wrap Fee Program over other programs and services.

ACCOUNT REQUIREMENTS AND TYPES OF CLIENTS (Item 5)

First Affirmative does not accept clients that are under any restriction as it relates to the USA Patriot Act or Bank Secrecy Act or comparable legislation.

There is no minimum size for accounts that participate in the FTJ Wrap Fee Program and there is no minimum asset balance to be invested in any Third Party Model or any Proprietary Model.

The following types of clients may participate in the FTJ Wrap Fee Program:

- Individuals (to include high net worth individuals)
- Pension and profit sharing plan trustees
- Pension and profit sharing plan participants
- Trusts, estates, and charitable organizations
- Nonprofit organizations and other non-governmental organizations
- Corporations or other businesses not listed above

PORTFOLIO MANAGER SELECTION AND EVALUATION (Item 6)

Selection of Models

IARs provide investment advisory services in the FTJ Wrap Fee Program consistent with First Affirmative's Sustainable Investment Solutions advisory offering (as described in the Disclosure Brochure). They may use Proprietary Models as well as Third Party Models. First Affirmative provides investment advice with the philosophies of sustainable, responsible impact (SRI) investing. All investment portfolios are constructed by integrating particular values and/or environmental, social and governance (ESG) factors in order to reflect a client's values and preferences as well as aligning with the client's investment goals and risk profile as established in the Investment Policy Statement by the client and the IAR.

In considering all of the models available on the FTJ Platform (Proprietary Models and Third Party Models), IARs begin by reviewing the models available on the platform through discussions with wholesalers and reading fact sheets on each Third Party Model Manager. The IARs then review the risk and return ratios on each model as well as the performance to determine which models are likely to continue to meet the client's needs. Generally, models with ongoing substandard performance (as reported on the FTJ Platform, which has been represented as being consistent with the performance standards of the CFA Institute) are eliminated along with models that may be considered "alternative strategies" (e.g., currency strategies). Further, IARs typically exclude exchanged traded fund (ETF) models on the FTJ Platform due to the high minimum initial purchase amount of $50,000. An IAR also may consider information about the model that comes to light, management changes or change of investment philosophy. Ultimately, the decision to make a change is based on a number of factors, including a change in the client's circumstances, investment philosophy, risk tolerance or market concerns.

First Affirmative does not review, nor engage a third party to review performance information relating to models shown on the FTJ Platform for compliance with the CFA Institute standards or to verify accuracy. Accordingly, the performance information with respect to any models used may not be calculated on a uniform and consistent basis.

Use of Proprietary Models

As noted above, First Affirmative makes available Proprietary Models on the FTJ Platform that may be used by IARs in the process or providing investment advisory services in the FTJ Wrap Fee Program. Proprietary Models are subject to the same selection and review process as Third Party Models that participate in the program.

Two IARs are members of First Affirmative senior management and the Investment Committee. In their roles, they each provide investment advisory services to individual clients, while also working on developing Proprietary Models. Proprietary Models developed by these two IARs are subject to the same selection and review process as other Third Party Models and other Proprietary Models. Further, they do not receive compensation relating to their development of Proprietary Models.

|| First Affirmative's Advisory Business

First Affirmative provides investment advice consistent with the philosophies of environmental, social and governance (ESG) investing. Clients who choose to invest with First Affirmative make a conscious choice to put their money to work for a dual purpose—to provide for a secure retirement, for example, while working for a better, more socially just and environmentally sustainable future for all.

Through IARs, First Affirmative provides, in the capacity of a fiduciary, tailored to the individual needs of the client, discretionary investment advisory services to investors that seek integration of personal values and/or environmental, social and governance (ESG) factors into the construction and management of investment portfolios, using mutual funds, and/or individual securities such as stocks, bonds, exchange traded funds (ETFs), exchange traded notes (ETNs), real estate investment trusts (REITs), American depository receipts (ADRs), government agency or Treasury securities, corporate or municipal bonds, certificates of deposit (CODs), commercial paper or other securities. First Affirmative does not offer discretionary advice concerning direct ownership of commodities, futures, derivatives or short selling.

|| Discretionary Investment Advisory Services – Sustainable Investment Solutions in Practice

Discretionary Investment Advice

Through its IARs, First Affirmative creates unique relationships with clients by combining discretionary investment advisory services and advanced financial technologies with responsible investment strategies that consider ESG factors. Generally, First Affirmative's innovative approach combines:

Fiduciary Responsibility. In First Affirmative's relationship with clients where First Affirmative is providing discretionary investment advice, First Affirmative acknowledges that it serves and acts in a fiduciary capacity.

Individualized Advice. One size does not fit all. First Affirmative offers a variety of fee-based investment options, each designed to best meet the needs of individual clients and/or specific types of clients. The client has the opportunity to place reasonable restrictions on the types of investments to be held in the client account.

Objectivity. IARs provide their clients with objective advice. Fees for account management are generally based on assets under management and, as a result, the client's interests, the interests of the IAR and First Affirmative are closely aligned.

Wrap Fee Program Participation

First Affirmative participates in one wrap fee program – sponsored by Geneos Wealth Management, Inc., (Geneos/SelectOne) by making its Proprietary Models available on the platform. The Proprietary Models on the Geneos/SelectOne platform are required to meet certain criteria set by Geneos/SelectOne and any models listed are subject to ongoing reviews. First Affirmative constructs such models with the same investment philosophy and process as it uses in other Proprietary Models. However, the included securities are restricted to securities that are approved by Geneos/SelectOne and are consistent with Geneos/SelectOne's asset allocation strategies and model construction guidelines. First Affirmative exercises no discretion with respect to clients subscribed to the model portfolios, but may receive an asset-based fee when a model constructed by First Affirmative is used by Geneos/SelectOne or a representative of Geneos/SelectOne in making a recommendation to a client.

401(k) Plan Advisory Services

First Affirmative offers investment advisory services to 401(k) plans consistent with Employee Retirement Income Security Act (ERISA) Section 3(21) through use of its model portfolios.

Performance-Based Fees

First Affirmative does not charge performance-based fees.

Investment Philosophy

First Affirmative follows an established investment management process consistent with standards of fiduciary care and with a long-term orientation.

First Affirmative's experience suggests that the financial planning and investment needs of most socially conscious investors can be met while providing competitive investment returns without a material increase in risk. For most clients, First Affirmative believes that a long-term, diversified approach is the most appropriate investment strategy. First Affirmative supports strategic asset allocation as well as more active portfolio management strategies. First Affirmative does not offer recommendations concerning direct ownership of commodities, futures, derivatives, or short selling but does offer tactical investment strategies appropriate for some investors. First Affirmative may use the following types of investment vehicles in service of achieving client goals and objectives.

- Mutual funds
- Individual stocks
- Exchange traded funds (ETFs)
- Exchange traded notes (ETNs)
- Other exchange traded securities
- American depository receipts (ADRs)
- Government agency securities
- Corporate bonds
- Municipal bonds
- Certificates of deposit
- Real estate investment trusts (REITs)

- OTC securities
- Commercial paper
- Warrants
- Options on equities
- Private placements

|| Methods of Analysis

First Affirmative and IARs may use the following methods of analysis in formulating investment advice and/or managing client assets:

Charting. In this type of technical analysis, charts of market and security activity are reviewed in an attempt to identify when the market is moving up or down, to predict how long the trend may last, and when that trend might reverse. While this is a common method of analysis, there always is the risk that past performance is not representative of future results or that the assumptions may prove to be incorrect.

Fundamental Analysis. The intrinsic value of a security is analyzed by reviewing economic and financial factors (including the overall economy, industry conditions, and the financial condition and management of the company itself) to determine if the company is underpriced (suggesting it may be a good time to buy) or overpriced (suggesting it may be time to sell). Fundamental analysis does not attempt to anticipate market movements or changes in value. There is risk in the fact that the price of a security can move up or down along with the overall market, regardless of the economic and financial factors considered in evaluating the stock.

Technical Analysis. Historical market movements are analyzed and that analysis is applied to the present in an attempt to recognize recurring patterns of investor behavior and potentially predict future price movement. Technical analysis does not consider the underlying financial condition of a company. Risk is inherent in the fact that a poorly-managed or financially unsound company may underperform regardless of market movement.

Cyclical Analysis. In this type of technical analysis, the movements of a particular stock against the overall market are analyzed in an attempt to predict the price movement of the security. There always is the risk that past performance is not representative of future results or that the assumptions may prove to be incorrect.

Quantitative Analysis. Mathematical modeling is used in an attempt to obtain more accurate measurements of a company's quantifiable data, such as the value of a share price or earnings per share, and predict changes to that data. A risk in using quantitative analysis is that the models used may be based upon assumptions that prove to be incorrect.

Qualitative Analysis. This type of analysis describes the process of evaluating difficult to quantify factors such as quality of management, labor relations, and strength of research and development factors not readily subject to measurement, and predicts changes to share price based on that data. A risk in using qualitative analysis is that First Affirmative's subjective judgment may prove to be incorrect.

ESG Integration. A sustainable and responsible approach to investing includes both quantitative and qualitative analysis. Management of environment, social, and governance issues and impacts can have a material influence (either positive or negative) on company profitability, value, and share price. Risk is inherent in the fact that a poorly-managed or financially unsound company or product may cause the investment to underperform regardless of its mission.

Asset Allocation. Rather than focusing primarily on securities selection, First Affirmative attempts to identify an appropriate ratio of securities, fixed income, and cash suitable to the client's investment goals and risk tolerance. A risk of asset allocation is that the client may not participate in sharp increases in a particular security, industry or market sector. Another risk is that the ratio of securities, fixed income, and cash will change over time due to stock and market movements and, if not corrected, will no longer be appropriate for the client's goals and risk tolerance.

Mutual Fund and/or ETF Due Diligence. First Affirmative looks at the experience and track record of the manager of the mutual fund or ETF in an attempt to determine if that manager has demonstrated an ability to invest over a period of time and in different economic conditions. First Affirmative also looks at the underlying assets in a mutual fund or ETF in an attempt to determine if there is significant overlap in the underlying investments held in another fund or funds in the client's portfolio. First Affirmative also monitors the funds or ETFs in an attempt to determine if they are continuing to follow their stated investment strategy.

A risk of mutual fund and/or ETF analysis is that, as in all securities investments, past performance does not guarantee future results. A manager who has been successful may not be able to replicate that success in the future. In addition, as First Affirmative does not control the underlying investments in a fund or ETF, managers of different funds held by the client may purchase the same security, increasing the risk to the client if that security were to fall in value. There is also a risk that a manager may deviate from the stated investment mandate or strategy of the fund or ETF, which could make the holding(s) less suitable for the client's portfolio.

Third Party Model Manager and/or Sub-Advisor Due Diligence. First Affirmative examines the experience, expertise, investment philosophies, and past performance of independent Third Party Model Managers and/or Sub-Advisors in an attempt to determine if there has been demonstrated ability to invest over a period of time and in different economic conditions. First Affirmative monitors the Third Party Model Manager's model holdings, strategies, concentrations and leverage as part of its overall periodic risk assessment. Additionally, as part of First Affirmative's due-diligence process, it surveys a Third Party Model Manager's or Sub-Advisor's compliance and business enterprise risks.

A risk of investing using Third Party Model Manager and/or Sub-Advisors who have been successful in the past is that they may not be able to replicate that success in the future. In addition, as First Affirmative does not control the underlying investments in a Third Party Model Manager's portfolio, there is also a risk that a manager may deviate from the stated investment mandate or strategy of the portfolio, making it a less suitable investment for clients. Moreover, as First Affirmative does not control the manager's daily business and compliance operations, First Affirmative may be unaware of the lack of internal controls necessary to prevent business, regulatory, or reputational deficiencies.

Risks for all Forms of Analysis and Due Diligence. First Affirmative's securities analysis methods rely on the assumption that the companies whose securities First Affirmative purchases and sells, the rating agencies that review these securities, and other publicly-available sources of information about these securities, are providing accurate and unbiased data. While First Affirmative is alert to indications that data may be incorrect, there is always a risk that analysis may be compromised by inaccurate or misleading information.

|| Investment Strategies

First Affirmative uses the following strategies in managing client accounts, provided that such strategies are appropriate to the needs of the client and consistent with the client's investment objectives, risk tolerance, and time horizons, among other considerations:

Long-Term Purchases. First Affirmative purchases securities with the intention of holding them in the client's account for a year or longer. Typically this strategy is employed when:

- First Affirmative believes the securities to be currently undervalued, and/or
- First Affirmative wants exposure to a particular asset class over time, regardless of the current projection for this class.

A risk in a long-term purchase strategy is that by holding the security for this length of time, First Affirmative may not take advantage of short-term gains that could be profitable to a client. Moreover, if First Affirmative's predictions are incorrect, a security may decline sharply in value before the decision is made to sell.

Short-Term Purchases. When utilizing this strategy, First Affirmative purchases securities with the idea of selling them within a relatively short time (typically a year or less). First Affirmative does this in an attempt to take advantage of conditions that it believes will soon result in a price swing in the securities purchased.

A short-term purchase strategy poses risks should the anticipated price swing not materialize; First Affirmative is then left with the option of having a long-term investment in a security that was designed to be a short-term purchase, or potentially taking a loss. In addition, this strategy involves more frequent trading than does a longer-term strategy, and could result in increased brokerage and other transaction-related costs, as well as less favorable tax treatment of short-term capital gains.

Illiquid Securities. First Affirmative may, from time to time, assist clients with analyzing investments in securities in the areas of unlisted and/or unregistered debt or equity (commonly referred to as "private placements"), which may have no current or anticipated liquidity. First Affirmative will provide investment advice only on such securities that have passed through and been approved by its due diligence and investment approval processes. When analyzing investments in securities of this type First Affirmative will use the following analysis: fundamental, qualitative, quantitative and risk.

|| Risk of Loss

Investing involves risk, including loss of principal. Each client of First Affirmative must be prepared to bear the risk of loss with respect to each account established.

VOTING SECURITIES (Item 6D)

Proxy Voting

Owners of company stock and mutual fund shares have a right to be heard on matters put before shareholders for a vote. Shareholder voting is the primary means by which shareholders can influence a company or mutual fund's operations, its corporate governance, and other activities that may fall outside of financial considerations.

Clients may choose from proxy voting options that are offered by TD Ameritrade. First Affirmative does not vote proxies for clients in the FTJ Wrap Fee Program. First Affirmative and its IARs may provide clients with consulting assistance regarding proxy issues if they contact First Affirmative with questions.

CLIENT INFORMATION PROVIDED TO PORTFOLIO MANAGERS

(Item 7)

Third Party Model Managers are investment managers who provide no individualized investment advice to a client, do not place or execute transactions on behalf of a client and merely license proprietary information about the composition of a hypothetical portfolio to other investment advisors. Accordingly, as a general matter, Third Party Model Managers on the FTJ Platform receive no client information.

It should be noted, however, that, when an IAR uses a Proprietary Model on the FTJ platform, First Affirmative is both the investment manager of the model (or portfolio manager) as well as the investment advisor to the client. In its capacity as an investment advisor, First Affirmative provides individualized investment advice and has client information.

CLIENT CONTACT WITH PORTFOLIO MANAGERS (Item 8)

A Third Party Model Manager generally has no contact of any type with a client, does not accept investor funds or pool those funds with other investors and does not offer its model portfolio services to anyone other than other investment advisors. Except as noted below, clients do not have access to Third Party Model Managers.

Again, it should be noted, however, that, when an IAR uses a Proprietary Model on the FTJ platform, First Affirmative is both the investment manager of the model (or portfolio manager) as well as the investment advisor to the client. As an investment advisor to the client, First Affirmative (through the IAR) has regular contact with the client.

DISCIPLINARY INFORMATION (Item 9A)

First Affirmative is required to disclose any legal or disciplinary events that are material to a client's or prospective client's evaluation of its advisory business or the integrity of its management. First Affirmative and its management personnel have no reportable disciplinary events to disclose.

OTHER FINANCIAL INDUSTRY ACTIVITIES AND AFFILIATIONS

(Item 9B)

Corporate Affiliates of First Affirmative

|| Folio Parent

First Affirmative is a wholly-owned subsidiary of Folio Parent and under common control with Folio Investments, Inc. (also referred to herein as Folio Institutional), Folio Research, LLC (Folio Research) and SRI Conference & Community, LLC (SRI Conference Entity). Folio Institutional, Folio Research and SRI Conference Entity are also wholly-owned subsidiaries of Folio Parent.

Folio Parent provides investment technology to its affiliates and unaffiliated third parties and other services to the financial services industry. Accordingly, Folio Parent and its employees may provide the same or similar products or services to third parties that provide advisory services that are the same or similar to those provided by First Affirmative. Folio Parent also provides support services to all of its subsidiaries, including shared employees and legal, human resource, and technology support. To address any conflicts that may arise as a result of its relationship with Folio Parent and its affiliates, no management or advisory personnel (including, but not limited to IARs and members of the Investment Committee) of First Affirmative are management or (including, but not limited to IARs and members of the Investment Committee) of any other affiliate, including Folio Parent, and First Affirmative has in place a strict "need to know" policy, which limits the sharing of proprietary and confidential information to only persons who have a need for the information for the purpose of supporting First Affirmative's business activities or providing services to First Affirmative's clients, consistent with First Affirmative's fiduciary obligations.

|| Folio Institutional

Folio Institutional is the custodian of some First Affirmative client assets and participates in a wrap fee program sponsored by First Affirmative. For additional information about Folio Institutional and the wrap fee program sponsored by First Affirmative, please see the Form ADV 2A, Appendix 1A (Folio Institutional Wrap Fee Brochure).

First Affirmative may select broker-dealers (BDs), including its affiliate, to provide brokerage services to client accounts. Conflicts may arise in the course of First Affirmative's selection of affiliated versus unaffiliated BDs. In selecting a BD as a custodian, including its affiliates, First Affirmative may take into account a range of factors it deems relevant, including, but not limited to cost of services; timing and speed of execution; responsiveness; creditworthiness and financial stability; likelihood of, and capabilities in, execution, clearance and settlement; liquidity in or with an execution venue; and other appropriate factors. After this analysis has been performed, a recommendation is made as to the custodian for the client account. The client has sole discretion as to any First Affirmative approved custodian, regardless of First Affirmative's recommendation.

|| The SRI Conference / SRI Conference and Community LLC

First Affirmative has produced and hosted The SRI Conference on Sustainable, Responsible, Impact Investing (formerly known as SRI in the Rockies) (The SRI Conference) since 1990. The SRI Conference is now owned and being produced by The SRI Conference and Community LLC (SRI Conference Entity), a separate entity under common ownership. Participants and sponsors for The SRI Conference and regional conferences are, in many cases, persons or entities with which First Affirmative engages or uses in investment management or financial planning processes and some of the mutual funds and Third Party Model Managers used by First Affirmative for client portfolios also sponsor the conference. To mitigate and address any potential conflicts that may arise as a result of First Affirmative and the SRI Conference Entity being under common ownership and management:

- No person who is a voting member of the First Affirmative Investment Committee, or who makes investment recommendations or places trades in client account will solicit sponsorship for the SRI Conference or communicate with any investment service providers regarding their sponsorship of the SRI Conference or other events organized by the SRI Conference Entity; and
- When Providers of investment products and services are conference sponsors or participants, First Affirmative Investment Committee members may learn about a product or service or its investment managers or strategy, but conference sponsorship is not a consideration for First Affirmative in designing client portfolios.
- No representations are made to sponsors indicating that their sponsorship will affect, positively or negatively, amounts that First Affirmative may cause to be invested in their mutual funds or investment models.

|| Folio Research

Folio Research provides advisory services to other RIA firms and BDs. As of December 31, 2016, Folio Research has no clients and is not actively engaged in an advisory business.

|| Outside Business Activities of Management Personnel and IARs

First Affirmative has one IAR, Scott Butfield, who operates a separate, unaffiliated RIA, registered in New Jersey that solely provides financial planning services. First Affirmative also provides financial planning services. Accordingly, a conflict of interest may exist with respect to the IAR's outside business activities and the operations of First Affirmative, because the IAR could receive fees for financial planning services through both the unaffiliated RIA and through First Affirmative. In addition, it could provide incentive to the IAR to recommend financial planning services through one firm or the other, based on compensation received, rather than on the client's needs. First Affirmative mitigates this conflict by ensuring that the fees charged for financial planning at both firms are comparable so there is minimal financial incentive to use one firm over the other. In addition, First Affirmative has compliance and supervisory procedures in place to ensure that financial planning fees are not charged by both firms. Neither First Affirmative nor the unaffiliated RIA receives referral compensation from the other firm for recommending that financial planning services be obtained from the other firm. Further, neither First Affirmative nor the unaffiliated RIA has access to records of clients of the other unless the client is a joint client of both firms. The client is not obligated to implement the advice or utilize the services provided by First Affirmative or the unaffiliated RIA. Several First Affirmative IARs are licensed as insurance agents or as tax preparers. First Affirmative does not supervise these outside business activities, nor does it share in any of the revenues from these activities.

Managing Other Potential Conflicts

|| Insider Trading

First Affirmative and/or individuals associated with the firm (including IARs) may buy or sell for their personal accounts securities identical to or different from those recommended to its clients. In addition, any related person(s) may have an interest or position in a certain security or securities which may also be recommended to a client. First Affirmative has established written policies and procedures for insider trading that prohibit any member, officer or employee of the firm, from buying, selling or recommending securities where the decision is substantially derived, in whole or in part, from non-public information, information about other First Affirmative clients or made based on the potential personal gain of the member, officer or employee.

|| Compensation Conflicts

Fees Paid to IARs by First Affirmative relating to Discretionary Investment Management. A portion of the fees for investment advisory services are shared with IARs to compensate them for their services.

Other Compensation Paid to IARs. In addition to receiving a portion of the fee for discretionary investment advice, IARs receive a portion of any fees charged for financial planning, hourly consultation or other services provided under nondiscretionary investment advisory agreements.

First Affirmative takes the following steps to address compensation conflicts:

- Discloses the potential for the firm and its employees to earn compensation from advisory clients in addition to the firm's advisory fees;
- Discloses to clients that they are not obligated to purchase recommended investment products from its employees or affiliated companies;
- Collects, maintains and documents accurate, complete and relevant client background information, including the client's financial goals, objectives and risk tolerance;
- The firm's management conducts regular reviews of client accounts to verify that all recommendations made to a client are suitable to the client's needs and circumstances;

Clients should be aware that conflicts of interest surrounding compensation may impair the objectivity of First Affirmative and its members, officers, or employees when making advisory recommendations or when providing non-discretionary investment advisory services. First Affirmative offers fee-based compensation which tends to reduce or change the possibility of conflicts of interest, but cannot eliminate them entirely. While it is First Affirmative's intent to always offer advice that is in the best interest of the client, it is the client's responsibility to evaluate that advice and determine if it is appropriate before taking action. No client is obligated to accept any recommendation, and all clients are free to implement any recommendation with the broker, planner, or advisor of their choice.

CODE OF ETHICS, PARTICIPATION OR INTEREST IN CLIENT TRANSACTIONS, PERSONAL TRADING (Item 9C)

First Affirmative has adopted a code of ethics ("the Code") which sets forth high ethical standards of business conduct that is required of employees and IARs, including compliance with applicable federal securities laws.

First Affirmative has adopted the Code for the purpose of instructing and guiding its personnel in their ethical and fiduciary obligations to clients. The Code also provides rules and requirements regarding the personal securities trading practices of IARs and staff. First Affirmative, its personnel, and its IARs owe a duty of loyalty, fairness, and good faith toward all clients and are obligated to adhere not only to the specific provisions of the Code but to the general principles embodied in the Code. The Code is designed to ensure that the personal securities transactions, activities and interests of First Affirmative employees will not interfere with making decisions in the best interest of advisory clients and implementing such decisions while, at the same time, allowing employees to invest for their own accounts.

The Code covers a range of topics that include the following: general ethical principles, reporting of personal securities trading, exceptions to reporting securities transactions, reportable securities, initial public offerings, and amendments to Form ADV and supervisory procedures.

A copy of the Code is available to investment advisory clients and prospective clients. You may request a copy by email sent to First Affirmative's Chief Compliance Officer, Kathy Lewis at kathy@firstaffirmative.com, or by calling 719.636.1045 x119.

Clients may also receive trade confirmations of every trade executed in their account(s), which should be saved for tax purposes.
